PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Ever since Gilroy Community Theatre raised the curtain on "Come Blow Your Horn" in 1969, we have all been part of a valuable tradition. That event was just the beginning. In 1985, it was decided to change the name to South Valley Civic Theatre to expand the home base of our community theatre to include participants and patrons in Morgan Hill, Gilroy, Hollister, San Juan Bautista and our whole South Valley. Our season now is typically five shows including a show with a cast of children and another made up of teen performers. We generally do at least one musical and an adult comedy or drama.

Throughout these past 31 years, the basis for our success has been "community". When people join in a production as a performer or behind the scenes, they join a community of theatre lovers. Many have stayed for years, on the board of directors, as actors, stage crew, building sets, playing in the orchestra, and helping out with the myriad of tasks which bring a script to life with SVCT.

SVCT does not currently have its' own theatre to call home, but we do our best as a "traveling troupe". This means that it is more important than ever to be on our mailing list so that you can receive information on upcoming performances and auditions. As a non-profit community theatre group SVCT relies on the community for support. Our income is obtained from individual, family or group memberships, ticket sales, concessions at shows and advertising in our programs. Our web site offers a great opportunity to learn about our shows, make ticket reservations and correspond with us. Be sure to check out the scrapbook links for our shows. You may see someone you know, and you'll certainly see the fun we have in community theatre!

SVCT has been very fortunate to have literally hundreds of community members over the past 31 years share their talents - both artistic and organizational. Every SVCT performance is really a "Thank You!" to these people and to the enthusiastic audiences who continue to support the very special opportunity to enjoy excellent local live theater.
