GCT selects cast

Gilroy Community Theatre (GCT) has completed casting for its musical production of "My Fair Lady," with the leading roles being assigned to Mia (Broom) Tipton as Eliza Doolittle, and Joe Kirk as Professor Henry Higgins.

The other major roles went to Frank Pattie (Alfie Doolittle), Joe Brown (Col. Pickering), Gwen Altenburg (Mrs. Higgins), Muriel Brem (Mrs. Pearce) and Larry Willard (Freddie - Eliza's boyfriend).

Mia Tipton, who was chosen for the lead female role, is a Hollister resident. She appeared in one of the lead roles of "Fiddler on the Roof," GCT's 1972 summer musical.

A dentist from the San Jose area, Joe Kirk is new to the Gilroy stage, but a stage veteran having worked extensively in the San Jose Music Theatre. Kirk has most recently appeared in "South Pacific," "Guys and Dolls," "Barefoot in Athens," "Ah Wilderness," and "The Rainmaker."

The "My Fair Lady" cast also includes a large number of minor and chorus roles. In those parts are: Peter Cheney, John Altenburg, Dan Palmerlee, Bill Schaal, Greg Light, Juan Gonzales, Wade Hughs, Kerry Logan, Bruce Barker, John Fields, Bette Brown, Jane Kirk, Kay Cooper, Natasha Silberstein, Frances Sampson, Mary Henry, Susie Lewis, Nance Barker, Sandra Rapazzini, Kathrin Weinberger, Debbie Wright, Lisa Kirk, Marta Maloney, Marilyn Geurin, Karen Forman, Laure Kernan, Diane Query, Lisa Dunlap, Edie Winter, Kathy Filice, Lisa Wasick, Peggy Brem, Kim Singleton, Ina Mac Vicar, Alice Crowley, and Walden Sampson.

"My Fair Lady," under the direction of Peter Heth, with Creighton Yip as musical director, is scheduled for performances Fridays and Saturdays, Aug. 10 through Sept. 1, in the Gavilan College Theatre.

Tickets for the opening night are being handled by the Theatre Angels, who are planning a champagne reception following the first night's performance. Helen Wolcott and Jane Jacobs are in the charge of the Theatre Angels' ticket sales.
